Official Communication on Optional QuickBooks Upgrade Issued April 19, 2010

Information Systems has completed testing of QuickBooks 2010 with LCL.net v2.1 on the Windows XP Pro, Vista and Windows 7 operating systems. Testers were able to successfully create and update Monthly Reports on each system.

Although no problems were found during testing, Information Systems strongly recommends that ONLY users who have installed and are using the QuickBooks Payroll module upgrade to QuickBooks 2010. Users who are not using the Payroll module should remain on QuickBooks 2007 and not upgrade to QuickBooks 2010.

Moose International will not be providing the Fraternal Units with a copy of QuickBooks 2010. Moose International has arranged a 40% discount for the Fraternal Units through our National Account Manager Keith Greener. This should make the cost to purchase QuickBooks 2010, $119.97. This offer is only good through May 31, 2010. You can reach Keith by calling 858-215-8158 or e-mailing him at Keith\_greener@intuit.com.

Furthermore, for users who make the decision to upgrade to QuickBooks 2010, it is strongly recommended that, during the upgrade process, the "Express (recommended)" upgrade option be selected, and NOT the "Custom" option. The "Express" option upgrades the user's existing company file to QuickBooks 2010, and keeps it in the same location. This facilitates LCL.Net's ability to communicate with the company file during Monthly Report creation.

Remember that it is very important that a QuickBooks 2007 backup of your company file be taken before beginning the upgrade to QuickBooks 2010.

You can also purchase QuickBooks 2010 at a local Computer Store, or download it directly from Intuit's web site, but will not receive the $119.97 discounted price.
