

Moose Legion Sponsor Recognition Medal of Honor and Elite Ring Programs

As per the Moose Legion Code of Rules
effective 07-01-2022

10.2 - Personal Membership Recognition – The Moose Legion Medal of Honor is presented to a Moose Legionnaire in recognition of attaining fifty (50) membership units. A diamond is added to the medal when the Moose Legionnaire attains levels of 150, 250, 350, 450, and 550 membership units.

The Elite Moose Legion Ring is a sterling silver ring presented to a Moose Legionnaire in recognition of attaining one hundred (100) membership units. A diamond is added to the ring when the Moose Legionnaire attains the levels of 200, 300, 400, 500, 600, 700, 800, and 900 membership units. A gold ring is awarded at one thousand (1,000) membership units and a diamond added for each one hundred (100) unit level thereafter.

Sponsors who attain the Moose Legion Medal of Honor receive a letter, and a special medallion, which may be worn on the breast pocket of their degree official regalia blazer. Upon a sponsor attaining the 100-unit lifetime membership unit level, he's awarded the Moose Legion Elite Ring. Each award is then updated as the member advances per the above stated recognition levels. As members of the Degree of Service & Leadership, it is our responsibility to help build the strength of The Moose. This can be achieved with one member at a time, by inviting individuals to become part of the Moose lodge and then advancing to the Moose Legion.

How close are you to achieving these levels of distinction on your sponsorship record? Only you can make it happen by inviting Moose lodge male members to advance to the Moose Legion Degree of Service & Leadership. Please invite your Moose lodge brother to become part of our program and increase greater support for Mooseheart and Moosehaven today.
